

June 7, 1855-56 W. M. B. WILSON.

[illegible]

THE NEWS.

CYNTHIANA, KY.
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25.

GRAND MASS MEETING! AND BANNER PRESENTATION AT FALMOUTH—MORE THAN 4000 AMERICANS ASSEMBLED!!!

Thursday last, the 18th inst., was the day fixed upon for the presentation of a splendid flag, prepared by the ladies of Falmouth, as a testimonial of their appreciation of the gallant services rendered by the American Party in Pendleton, (the banner county) at the last August election.

The day was as beautiful as heart could wish—a bright sun, a cloudless sky, and all surrounding nature seeming to smile in commendation of the glad scene to be presented. At an early hour immense crowds commenced pouring in from the country, and with the hundreds added by the long trains of cars arriving from both directions, added greatly to the throng, and by 10 o'clock more than 4000 American ladies and gentlemen had assembled in enthusiastic waiting for the exercises of the day.

At that hour, a procession, consisting of about three-fourths of the persons present, was formed opposite the court house, under the direction of Julius G. Coleman, Esq., the Marshal of the day, and headed by the splendid Band from the U. S. Barracks, at Newport, marched in good order to the beautiful ground selected for the occasion, adjoining the village, where had been prepared the most ample accommodations for the comfort and convenience of all assembled.

The exercises commenced by a favorite air from the Band. After which, John W. Finnell, Esq., in behalf of the ladies of Frankfort, presented to the American party of Pendleton, the beautiful and chastely wrought banner, which had been prepared for that purpose, and in performing that duty, delivered one of the most beautiful and elegant addresses it has ever been our good fortune to listen to. He paid a high compliment to the people of Pendleton for their patriotic devotion to the American cause, and reminded them of the hard struggle in which they had been engaged with other counties for the banner they had so nobly won, and warned them that in the contest of the future, Harrison, Grant and "little Bracken," all of whom had contended valiantly for the flag in August last, would each make determined efforts to take from Pendleton her well won trophy. His speech was received with great enthusiasm, and elicited throughout the warmest commendations of the crowd assembled. The flag was received by John E. Records, Esq., on behalf of the Americans of Pendleton, in a neat and forcible speech, in which he handsomely acknowledged the high compliment paid his county by the fair ladies of Frankfort, in presenting them the beautiful emblem of our country's nationality, in reward for their fidelity to its native institutions and people, and then entering into an argument of the principles of the party, forcibly and eloquently advocated the soundness of the platform upon which it had been founded. After the Band had played the "Star Spangled Banner," the Hon. John J. Crittenden was introduced, and enthusiastically received, and for about one hour and a half enchaind the attention of the crowd by his matchless eloquence. He entered at once upon the discussion of the great principles "that Americans should rule America," and whilst his inimitable manner won the profound attention of all present, his powerful eloquence and sound logic drove home to their hearts earnest conviction of the truth of his doctrine, and the necessity of its adoption by our government. His speech was one of the best efforts of his life, and told with thrilling effect upon the vast assembly that listened to him. After Mr. C. had concluded "My Old Kentucky Home" was played by the Band, and then dinner was announced.

And right here we would say a word concerning the exquisite good taste and excellent order in which the dinner arrangements were gotten up. In the north part of the grove were spread two tables for the accommodation of the gentlemen, each about 250 feet in length both of which were literally loaded down with finely roasted muttons, beefs, pigs, and every variety of well baked bread, and almost all the SUBSTANTIALS necessary for a hungry man's comfort. In the south part of the grove, a hundred yards from the gentlemen's table, was prepared the dinner arrangements for the ladies, and such profusion and good taste in the spreading of a barbecue dinner we have never seen surpassed on any occasion before. It was such a table as would have graced the saloons of "Burnet" or "St. Nicholas" and contained every delicacy, as well as the substantial of life, that the best filled larders could supply, or the most fastidious palate desire. The decorations were of the most tasteful kind—arches of evergreens, beautified by handsomely arranged bouquets and wreaths of beautiful flowers spanning the table at short intervals from one to the other. The ladies of Pendleton certainly deserve great credit for the excellent manner in which their part of the celebration was carried out, and their lady visitors on that day (and gentlemen too) will long remember the sumptuous entertainment which they so generously prepared, and in such good taste, arranged for them. Full justice was due to the eatables by all assembled, and not a word from all the vast crowd was uttered concerning the dinner but in terms of praise for both its abundance and excellence.

Dinner over, the crowd again assembled around the speakers stand, where the regular toasts were read by Drs. Wilson and Barber alternately, as follows:

1. The Union—"May the Union of these States have no end."
2. The American Party—"May its onward march be steady and triumphant."
3. George Washington—"The father of his Country, 'Put none but Americans on guard.'"
4. Kentucky—"May she always be what she ever has been, one of the strongest supports of the Union."
5. Governor Morehead—"In him we admire the Orator, the Statesman and the polished gentleman."

On the announcement of this toast Gov. Morehead arose and returned his sincere thanks to the people of Pendleton for the noble part they had born in electing him to the office he then occupied, he said, however, that it had not been the custom for the Governors of Kentucky, during their term of office, to participate actively in politics, and he would not violate the time honored custom. He said that he was now Governor of the whole people of Kentucky, and not of any party or faction alone, and that in the course of his administration, his earnest efforts would be used to conduct the affairs of the State upon the principles of justice and impartiality. His honor took his seat, amidst deafening applause.

6. Tenth Congressional District—"Not found by the American party like Jordan—a hard road to travel."

7. Hon. Garret Davis—"Pioneer in the American cause."

In response to this sentiment, the Hon. Garret Davis appeared before the audience, and for one hour and a half, delivered a speech, which for elegance and power, has been rarely surpassed. It was a close, sound, logical and eloquent vindication of the principles of the American party, and the enthusiasm manifested by his auditory, told well the response which every heart gave to the sentiments that he uttered, as well as the affection which they bore for the honored pioneer in the cause of Americanism. Mr. Davis sustained well his great reputation as an orator and profound Statesman, and the thrilling effects of his speech will long be remembered by those who were present on that occasion.

8. E. B. Bartlett, Grand President of the American Party—"High in position, high in public estimation, and a firm adherent to American principles."

9. Hon. John J. Crittenden—"Kentucky's favorite Orator and Statesman."

The toasts having been read, loud calls were made for Col. John W. Finnell, of Covington, who responded in one of the happy and interesting speeches which he alone can make, enchaind the attention of the crowd during its delivery, and drawing down thunders of applause. His address was full of wit, humor and eloquence, and was an entertainment well worthy of the genius of the gentleman who gave it.

In response to a call, W. S. Rankin, Esq., of Grant, who made so gallant a Senatorial race last summer, (and was only defeated by the "Bee-hive of Loco-focoism," sweet Owen,) arose and returned his thanks to "Old Pendleton" for the generous support she had given him, assured them of the full confidence he yet entertained in the truth of the sentiment "that none but Americans should be placed on guard," and expressed his abiding confidence that the true hearted members of the American party would yet see their cherished principles implanted firmly in the institutions of our country, which would safely lead it to greater happiness and power and renown in each succeeding age. A few appropriate remarks from Gov. Crittenden, closed the exercises of the day, and the procession being again formed, marched back to town, when they were dismissed, and the people dispersed quietly to their homes, bearing in their hearts a deeper conviction of the truth of American principles, and renewed hope for their ultimate success.

Not an instance of improper conduct occurred to mar the occasion during the entire day. All was hilarity and happiness, and every one present, seemed to enjoy it as one of those pleasant reunions of the people which is so well calculated to gladden the hearts of all who participate; and it terminated, leaving the impress upon the memory of each one that it was one of the most spirited, agreeable and enthusiastic gatherings of the sons and daughters of old Kentucky that has ever been held mid the valleys of her Northern border, and long will the stranger guests of that day cherish in kindly recollections, the generous hospitality of the beautiful ladies and gallant and clever gentlemen of Falmouth, who honored them with such attentions to their comfort during the few hours of their stay in their midst.

THE BALL AT FALMOUTH.
On last Thursday evening, after the glorious Barbecue, Speechifying, and "good time," generally, at our neighboring borough of Falmouth, we were inclined to "see the end on't," and accordingly attended the "hop" at the Falmouth Hotel, kept by 'mine host' J. N. Kennett. Upon entering the Ball-Room, there was one thing that particularly attracted our attention, and that was the exceeding beauty of the ladies: "Nature was here in lavish of her store, 'That she bestowed until she had no more."

Never saw we congregated together so much youth and beauty. But we have not the space now to expatiate upon the theme. Spills and Bryson drew their magic bows, and such a "concert of sweet sounds," set the feet ago-

—And when
"Music arose with its voluptuous swell,
Soft eyes looked love to eyes which spake again,
And all went merry as a marriage bell."

There was one amongst the fair assemblage, whose beauty was as resplendent as any maiden of the far Georgian hills, and whose step was queenly as that of Juno. She was the universally acknowledged belle of the evening. We allude to Miss J. C. Coleman, of Colemansville. A world of love lay hidden in the midnight blackness of her eye, and on her cheek the rose of health had scattered its bloom, and lent its balmy fragrance to her breath. Ah! fair Josephine, we fear that thou hast been the cause of many a heartache. We cannot describe her beauty; we have not enough of poetry in our soul, but can and do say, that—

"Had she lived before the siege of Troy,
Helen, whose beauty summoned Greece to arms
And drew a thousand ships to Tenedos,
Had not been named in Homer's Iliad;
Her name had been in every line he wrote."

Next to our queen in beauty, was the fascinating Miss Lizzie M. of St. Louis; the accomplished Miss Lizzie C. of Gum Lick; the belle of Falmouth, Miss E. A. R. S.; the modest Miss M. J. V. S.; but we cannot particularize, but must say that Miss M. E. McD. of Flemingsburg; Miss L. C. N. of M. C. C. of M. C. C. of Falmouth; Miss A. S. R. S. of Falmouth; Miss E. E. C. of Colemansville; Miss H. V. S. of Falmouth; Miss M. V. C. of Falmouth; Miss S. E. S. of Falmouth; Miss E. A. W. of Falmouth; Miss M. H. S. of Falmouth; Miss E. A. G. of Grant; Miss F. V. P. of Havilandville; C. A. C. of Colemansville, all of whom were beautiful as a poets dream.

There was one other who deserves more than a passing notice—we allude to Miss M. F. S. of Maysville. There was a something in the melting blueness of her eye, that reminded us of the "Maid" of our young friend, "Copperfield," of whom he sings:

"I sat and gazed into her eyes, and thought
That, like a second John, I was looking into Heaven. I saw in them their story depicted,
And glowing songs played round her youthful
Heart, like white-winged angels round
The throne of God. Upon the mirror of her
Soul no breath of sin had left its vapors;
But all was pure and spotless as the skies,
That bend above the fields of Paradise."

But it was with pride that we claim for our city the best dancer that was present, Miss M. G. A. N. There is a nameless grace in her motion that is captivating, and as dancing is "the poetry of motion," Mac, herself is,

"A dream of poetry, not written or told,
But exceedingly beautiful."
We regret that time and space forbid our particularizing each beauty we met there, but we do say, that a more pleasant dance we have never attended, more beautiful ladies we have never seen; and when next they have a dance at Falmouth, may we "be there to see."

At the last session of the Shelby (Ind.) Circuit Court, George Wells, of this State, who was indicted for shooting James Inlow, was tried, convicted, and sentenced to pay a fine of FIVE DOLLARS! As Wells was drunk, and merely shot Inlow for sport, he has no reason to get mad at the jury that fined him.

A Matter of Taste.
The Louisville Courier of Monday last contained a leader with the above caption, in which Gov. Morehead catches particular thunder, because, forsooth, he saw fit to attend the barbecue at Falmouth last Thursday. The Courier man holds up his hands in holy horror, and is exceedingly shocked that our clever executive should display such bad taste as to meet with the honest, generous, open-hearted people of Pendleton, and in the green woods, under the open sky, partake of the dinner prepared by them, and the GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY! Well, its a fine thing to have taste, but a bad thing too much taste, and execrable to have no taste. For the editor of the Louisville Courier, who has been the advocate of half-a-dozen parties, in as many years, to censure anybody, for doing ANYTHING, is not only bad taste, but simply ridiculous; but when he states that Gov. Morehead took the stump, and delivered a political harangue, on that day, his truth (to say the least of it) is equally as bad as his taste. "We trust," says he of the Courier, "this may be the last time we shall hear of Gov. M. quitting his duties to attend political mass meetings." We would not be surprised if Gov. M. declined all invitations to barbecues in the future, since he has had his line of duty so plainly marked out by the Courier.

A Richmond in the Field.

We would advise those who desire a perfect and life-like representation of themselves or friends, to pay a visit to the Daguerrean gallery of Mr. J. G. Richmond, whose advertisement will be found by reference to another column. What he promises, we unhesitatingly assure our readers, he will perform. We have examined the specimens in his gallery, and find them to be executed in the highest style of art, and finished in such a manner as to resemble the finest steel or copperplate engraving. Mr. Richmond has the skill and taste requisite for giving a finish to his pictures such as few artists possess. We would earnestly advise those who wish to procure likenesses combining truthfulness and beauty with durability, to call upon Mr. R. immediately, as his stay will be short.

See Apfel's new advertisement.

To My Sweetheart.

My darling's a beauty and gay as a bird,
And she loves me with freedom and joy,
Her blue eye did sparkle, when she told me
The world

That informed me that I was the boy,
Six months swiftly have flitted away,
Since we peeped into each other's soul,
Not a night has passed over, nor even a day,
That our hearts have been sundered and cold.

Our hearts are now blended together,
Like drops of fine water that fell
From the clouds of the Eternal in heaven,
That meet in the ocean for all.

She is waiting to walk through the valley
Of joy and sorrow below.

If my presence is with her to rally
When joy is succeeded by woe!

Then bright be my dreams of the lady
Whose heart to me is resigned,
Our path will be sunny and shady—
Two hearts into one are combined.

Pro Bono.

Ashland, Oct. 20, 1855.

AMERICAN VICTORY IN FLORIDA.—In the judicial election in Florida, on the 1st inst., the American candidates were triumphantly elected. Duval county, which elected two Anti-Americans to the Legislature last year, now gives upwards of 250 majority for the American ticket.

SOME OF THE EFFECTS OF THE FEVER.—It appears that all is not gloom and darkness—some of those who were fortunate enough to escape the ravages of the epidemic are bent on sublimary happiness despite the ordeal through which they have passed. We are credibly informed that the nuptials were celebrated a few days ago, between a widow and widower, the husband of the former having been dead just two weeks, and the spouse of the latter deceased five weeks previous. Quick work.—Norfolk News.

A brakeman on the freight-train was killed Monday morning near Lexington, by falling between two cars.

John G. Saxe, the wit, poet, and editor, is lecturing at present in Louisville.

We had the pleasure of meeting Capt. GREEN LANEY, of Covington, who is on a short visit to his relatives in this city.

We are gratified to learn that our distinguished fellow-citizen, Gen. Lucius B. DESHA, is rapidly recovering his health.

American Convention.
Baltimore, Monday, Oct. 22.

The Convention of the American party in Virginia, held at Lynchburg, adjourned finally on Saturday.

Resolutions fully endorsing the Philadelphia platform, and especially that portion relative to slavery, were passed. They also recommended an open organization, and that the nomination of a candidate for President be postponed to a period not later than the first of June.

[For the Cynthiana News.]
OCTOBER.

I know not why it is, but October always excites in my breast a melancholy feeling that I do not experience at any other period of the year. This feeling somewhat resembles the sadness that palls the heart when one hears the toll of the bell that heralds the passage of some fellow-mortal from time to eternity. And, verily, it hath much of sadness in it. October ascends the throne of the seasons over the biers of her departed sisters, with the consciousness that her's will be a short reign, and that when she does resign her sceptre, 'twill pass into stranger hands, amid the howlings of the storm, and her shroud will be ice, and her grave be mantled with snow.

She came.
At the September's death, the last sad Mourner o'er her sister's bier.
Clark sings thus beautifully of the "brown October":

Solemn, yet beautiful to view,
Month of my heart thou dost never here,
With sad and faded leaves to strew
The summer's melancholy bier.
The moaning of thy winds I hear,
As the red sunset dies afar,
And bars of purple clouds appear,
Obscuring every western star.

Thou solemn month! I hear thy voice;
It tells my soul of other days;
When but to live was to rejoice,
When earth was lovely to my gaze;
O vision bright! O blessed hours!
Where are their living raptures now?
I ask my spirit's wearied powers—
I ask my pale and fevered brow!

The notorious Delia A. Webster, is at the East lecturing on Slavery.

Frank Tilford, formerly of Lexington, has been elected to the State Senate of California, from San Francisco.

The Gov. & Lex. Railroad is doing a good hog-killing business. Several car loads were slaughtered about a mile above Lair's mill, on Monday morning, by a freight train running off the track.

On the 24th inst., of Consumption, at the residence of Thos. Odey Sr., Mrs. ANN THOMAS FARNS, aged 17 years, 7 months and 5 days.

Caldwell Council
OF THE AMERICAN PARTY. Meets every Wednesday evening, at their Hall. The members of the Order generally are invited to attend. Don by order of the Council.

Sept. 27, 1855—52th

New Advertisements.

I. O. O. F.

The members of Harrison Lodge of I. O. O. F., are requested to be present at their regular meeting, on Saturday night 25th inst., as business of importance to every member will be transacted.

By order of the Lodge,
WM. B. CALHOUN Secy.

NOTICE.

I have underigned here to inform the public respect-fully that I have received and opened at T. P. Carter's old stand, in addition to his former stock, the complete and fullest assortment of

GROCERIES, LIQUORS & WINES.

With all other articles pertaining to that line, including the best of the credit system, and giving me the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most sacred and dearest treasure, their happy homes. By receiving up, I shall not only give them the opportunity of the community at large and so forth one and all who can and will purchase their goods of me, to give me satisfaction, then depriving them of their most

---